

Asst. Prof. Dr. Gülüm Bayraktarođlu ÖZÇELİK

After graduating from Ankara University Faculty of Law in 1998, Dr. Özçelik has received her M.A. degree on International Relations from Middle East Technical University in 2001 and LLM Degree on European Law from University of Exeter in 2002. She had her PhD on Private International Law in 2007 from Ankara University with her PhD dissertation on “the Law Applicable to Bills of Lading”. After working in Ankara University as a research assistant in the Departments of Private International Law and European Union Law between 2000- 2009, Dr. Özçelik was appointed as an assistant professor of private international law at Bilkent University Faculty of Law in 2009 and acted as the associate dean of the same Faculty between 2010-2012. Main research areas of Dr. Özçelik include conflict of laws, international civil procedure, law of citizenship and foreigners, free movement of persons and services and the area of justice, freedom and security in the EU. Dr. Özçelik is teaching the courses of Turkish Private International Law, EU Law, Substantive Law of the EU, Legal Aspects of Turkey-EU Relations and Selected Topics in English Law. She has received the Jean Monnet Scholarship of the European Commission in 2001, the scholarship of the Max-Planck Institut für Ausländisches und Internationales Privatrecht in 2004 and 2005 and Sasakawa Young Leaders’ PhD Scholarship in 2007.